Many southwest Arkansas agricultural, business, civic, and industrial leaders are expected to attend this Democratic function. Admittance to the dinner will be by membership card in the Arkansas Donkey Club or the wearing of a Donkey lapel pin.

Pope Says Leaders Must Face God

By EUGENE LEVIN

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII warned the world's leaders today that they "will one day have to account for their actions to God." He appealed to them to "give ear to the anguished cry of 'peace, peace' which rises up to heaven from every part of the world."

"May this thought of the reckoning that they are to face spur them to omit no effort to achieve this blessing, which for the human family is a blessing greater than any other," the pontiff said.

The 80-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church spoke at a special audience for the envoys sent to the Vatican by 85 governments for the opening of the Roman Catholic Church's 21st Ecumenical Council.

With Michelangelo's awesome "Last Judgment" as a backdrop, the pontiff told the envoys assembled in the Sistine Chapel that war today would "mean the destruction of humanity." He called attention to the vast fresco, "the seriousness of which gives one much food for thought" and warned, "We must indeed render an account to God."

Let the leaders of the world, the pontiff said, "continue to meet each other in discussions and reach just and generous agreements that they faithfully observe."

"Let them be ready to make sacrifices that are necessary to save the world's peace," he said. "The nations will then be able to work in an atmosphere of serenity. All the discoveries of science will assist progress and help to make life on this earth, which is already marked by so many other inevitable sufferings, ever more delightful."

The Pope's audience was the main activity in the Vatican today. No council session was scheduled, and the 2,700 prelates here for the conclave tuned their attention to lining up candidates for the 10 commissions, of 24 members each, that will debate the issues before this greatest church meeting in modern times.

Ballooning starts Saturday in St. Peter's Basilica and will continue through three more private council sessions spaced through next week.

The council fathers will elect 16 members of each commission. Pope John will pick the rest. The pontiff thus can ensure active participation on the commissions of bishops—such as those from remote regions in Africa and Asia—who cannot line up enough geographical support for election.

Once the commissions are formed, the work of the council will shift into high gear. In the week starting Oct. 21 the prelates will meet five times in plenary sessions.

They will have much to do. Prior to the opening of the Church's 21st Ecumenical Council, preparatory commissions drew up 70 draft schemes or topics representing abstracts of nearly 9,000 different proposals received in a poll of the world episcopate.

New matters raised in council discussions may also be included on the agenda.

The council is concerned with Christian unity and the place of the Church in this age of enormous scientific, economic and political development. The discussions will touch on every important aspect of life in today's changing world.

Gales Batter 1,000 Miles of Pacific Coast

GOLD BEACH, Ore. (AP) — A fierce gale battered more than 1,000 miles of the Pacific coast Thursday taking three lives. The same stretch of coast braced for an equally strong storm today.

The fringe of the storm was expected to reach the scheduled World Series game at San Francisco, where Weather Bureau forecasters said there was a 90 per cent chance of rain.

Forecasters said the storm front probably would reach Coos Bay, Ore., in late afternoon.

Wind gusts up to 90 miles an hour were recorded on the Oregon coast Thursday in the storm that stretched from Northern California to British Columbia.

The storm toppled a tree that killed a man near Snoqualmie, Wash. In Northern California an automobile ran off the road in blinding rains, crashed into a tree and killed a man and his wife.

Winds virtually destroyed a school near Gold Beach on the southern Oregon coast. Windows were broken and roofs ripped off a number of homes.

The storm so severely battered a radar station on 3,100-foot Mt. Hebo on the northern Oregon coast that the Air Force had to pull out its 50 men.

Fifty fishing boats were caught at sea off Northern California. Fierce winds whipped waves higher than 30 feet and sank one boat. The crew was rescued. The other limped into port, some with Coast Guard assistance.

More than a foot of snow fell in the inland mountains. There was extensive damage to fruit orchards from high winds. Telephone and electrical power lines were knocked down in scores of communities. Many schools closed. Heavy rains delayed potato harvests. Garberville in Northern California recorded 6.28 inches of rain in a two-day period.

Texas' Tower Cites Need for 2-Party System

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., toured Arkansas Thursday rapping into the Democratic administration and spreading optimism for the state's GOP candidates.

The senator ran the gauntlet of current political charges in stops at Fort Smith, Hot Springs, Stuttgart and Memphis, terming the Kennedy administration a "bunch of intellectual snobs" and forecasting a swing to conservatism in Arkansas.

He held optimism for GOP candidates, saying "My goodness, if they will elect a 5 foot, 5 1/2 inch half pint like me in Texas, the sky's the limit."

Tower charged that if Arkansas had a two-party system and if Dr. Kenneth G. Jones, opponent of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., in the Nov. 6 general election, were elected, the Democrats would stop taking the state for granted.

Fulbright had no major speeches scheduled in the state Thursday.

"I'm here to do what your party wants me to do," he said.

Tower said at Fort Smith he had talked with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., about Arkansas GOP candidates this year and Goldwater had said if the state couldn't win a Senate seat with Jones this year they might never do it.

At Hot Springs the senator said, "What we need to solve the Cuban situation is a running affirmation of the Monroe Doctrine. But I don't see much hope from the Kennedy administration."

He told a crowd at an airport at Stuttgart, "I've been in Washington long enough to be pretty frightened at what is going on up there."

Tower quoted an unidentified southern senator as saying even Franklin D. Roosevelt never envisioned a shift of power to the White House.

"Now when FDR starts looking like a conservative, friends," he said, "we are in trouble."

Baptist Budget Is Approved
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The Southern Baptist Church's Board of Foreign Missions approved a record $20,427,907 budget Wednesday for 1963.
The board elected Dr. Homer G. Lindsey of Jacksonville, Fla., as chairman to succeed Dr. L. Howard Jenkins of Richmond, who held the post for 30 years.

Harvesting in State Favorable
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Clear skies and mild temperatures throughout Arkansas made last week favorable for harvesting of all crops.
The Arkansas Agriculture Extension Service reported that approximately 45 per cent of the cotton crop has been harvested. The service said yields are good and an increased percentage of the crop is being harvested by machines.
The quality of the cotton harvested improved somewhat due to the clear weather that prevailed until the weekend, the Extension Service said. Gin turnout has been low due to the dry weather in August.
Dry weather during the week reduced losses of rice, the service reported. It said about two-thirds of the crop was harvested by the end of the week. Reports of very good yields continue to come in from most areas.
Only a small percentage of the soybean crop has been harvested, according to the service, but combining was expected to become more active this week.

3.9 Million Chicks Started
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas producers started 3,900,000 broiler chicks during the week of Oct. 6, according to a Crop Reporting Service estimate. The figure is one per cent above that of the previous week.
Of the total placements in the state, 3,502,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 488,000 were brought in from other states. There were 174,000 broiler chicks shipped from the state during the week.
The estimated total of 5,219,000 eggs set for broiler-type chicks in Arkansas during the week was nine per cent below the previous week.

Spa Fish Festival Competition Starts

The 30 couples entered in the contest, which is sponsored by the city of Hot Springs, will be guests of the city during the competition. Their rooms, meals, boats and motors will be furnished.
Contestants may fish in areas of their choice in the 52,000 acres of fishing waters in and around Hot Springs National Park. Lures must be artificial.

Protests Manhandling of Envoy

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States today formally protested against last week's detention and manhandling of the assistant U.S. naval attaché. Cmdr. Raymond Smith.
A note delivered to the Soviet Foreign Ministry demanded disciplinary measures be taken against the Soviet officials "involved in this affair" and assurances "there will be no recurrence of violation of the diplomatic immunities of members of the (U.S.) Embassy staff."

A U.S. Embassy spokesman told newsmen Smith was grabbed in a Leningrad public park and said he was doing nothing improper.
The spokesman acknowledged Smith was carrying a camera, binoculars and a small tape recorder, as the Soviets have charged. But the spokesman said "he did not use his binoculars and he did not have his camera out of his pocket."

The embassy spokesman pointed out that Smith was photographed when plainclothes police detained him in the park, and that was proof the incident was a "set up job."

As for the small tape recorder, which was in Smith's pocket, it was used for recording impressions, the spokesman said.
The spokesman said the map found on Smith was a map of the Leningrad bus and subway system, which he had purchased in normal fashion in Leningrad.

Poll Tax Receipts Show Increase

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A total of 34,828 poll tax receipts have been reported to the state auditor's office, Auditor Jimmie Jones said today.
Jones said this was 9.71 more than the record high of 355,067 reported by this time last year.
He said the figure this year was with 54 counties reporting out of the 75.
Oct. 1 was the last day to buy a poll tax.

Seeks to Add to Territory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Green Forest Telephone Co. asked the state Public Service Commission Tuesday for an additional service area in Carroll County.
The company said it wants to provide service to Townships 18 and 19, now without service.

Civil Defense Class

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Education voted Tuesday to participate in a Civil Defense adult education program by permitting 15 Education Department staff members to take training in survival techniques and then conduct classes about the state. The $75,000 cost of the program will be paid with federal funds.

Senic Drive Is Part of Highways

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Highway Commission added to the state highway system today a 16-mile portion of a proposed scenic drive road from Mena to Talihina, Okla., which is expected to cost about $7 million.
Construction money for the 55-mile road is to be supplied by the federal government if Congress approves a special appropriation for it.
The Arkansas portion of the route will run from Mena over Rich Mountain and through Queen Wilhelmina State Park.

Reds Demand Change of UN Leader

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union today renewed its demands that the U.N. secretary-general be replaced by a three-man board. The United States promptly assailed the so-called troika plan as a threat to the integrity of the U.N. secretariat.

The exchange took place in the General Assembly's Budgetary Committee during general review of the organization's financial and administrative problems.
Soviet Delegate P. M. Tehernev asserted the world's three main political blocs—Communist, Neutralist and Western—should have equal representation in the secretariat from top to bottom.

The U.S. delegate, Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., said attacks on the "international character and on the integrity of the secretariat" were causing just as much concern as the financial plight of the United Nations.
Proposals to have the staff members represent the power blocs, he said, "would destroy the basic concept of the integrity of the international secretariat." He added that the United States believes members of the staff should "act in accordance with the directives applying to one's office, regardless of personal or governmental views, or resign one's office."

Dinner Planned for Ex-Arkansans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Forty-six ex-Arkansans who have become prominent in commerce, finance, industry, insurance, government, education, utilities and communications returned to their home-state today to see how it's changed.
They are guests of the Little Rock and Hot Springs chambers of commerce and Winthrop Rockefeller, chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission.
The 46 will attend a dinner in Little Rock tonight then go to Conway and Winrock Farm Friday and to Hot Springs Friday night.

Station Is Sold
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sale of radio station KAJI at Little Rock to Glen A. Harmon of Louisville, Ky., was authorized Wednesday by the Communications Commission. Harmon is buying the station from Helmer, Inc., for $105,000.

If all roads were superhighways, Chevrolet's remarkably smooth and silent ride might be just another luxury. But as most town and country roads will demonstrate, this is one Chevrolet advantage that's mighty easy to get excited about. (The way those four deep-coil springs put the kibosh on bumps, you'd almost think Chevrolet was working for the highway commission.) The '63 Bel Airs, Biscaynes and Impalas are equally easy going on upkeep. Brakes are self-adjusting. New Delco-Ronco generator s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s battery life. Family Photo Always a Big Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—One of life's little ordeals is what to do or say when someone shows you a picture of his family.

It pays never to leap to premature conclusions when someone suddenly confronts you with a photo and asks you proudly: "Well, what do you think of that?"

The art of the camera hasn't really progressed very far. At first glance it is hard to tell an old barn from a mother-in-law, or an apple tree in bloom from a high school girl in her graduation dirks.

The best thing to do is to peer at the proffered photo uncertainly then exclaim heartily: "My, even without my glasses, I can tell that one is a real corker."

This will please him mightily, and by artful questioning you can elicit from him whether it is a picture of his last family reunion, or only a color photo of an Easter egg basket.

If it is a clear day and you have 20-20 eyesight and you are reasonably certain the photo he hands you is that of a human female under the age of 70, you might say:

"Gee, doesn't your wife object of a movie star in your pocket?"

"What do you mean a movie star?" he'll answer. "That's my wife!"

And by a single remark of intuitive genius you will have made two lifelong buddies—him and her. You can always be sure of a free meal at their house any time. His wife will probably even be glad to do your laundry for you.

Utmost tact is required when faced unexpectedly by a photo of a squirming infant. The truth is, as every honest person knows, what most snapshots of babies look like an incomplete job in taxidermy.

If you are uncertain of the sex of the child, you give a long sigh of admiration and murmur:

"Adorable...so cute...man, this really worth coming home to at night, isn't it?"

If you are certain the infant is boy and his brow doesn't slant back too abruptly, it's always safe to observe:

"My, what a forehead! That kid's gonna be a real brain. And those shoulders! Just look at those shoulders!"

On the other hand, if you are absolutely sure the infant is a girl, you'll do best if you chuckle and say fondly:

"Oh, she'll break a lot of men's hearts when she grows up. I feel sorry for her boy friends already."

And, of course, when both parents hand you a photo of their little darling and simultaneously demand, "Who you think our baby really looks like?", there is only one satisfactory answer:

"Both of you. There's no doubt whose baby this is!"

Mr. and Mrs. William Donald Thomason

Miss Mary Bernadette Curran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis M. Curran of Parsons, Kan., and William Donald Thomason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Thomason of Hope, were united in marriage on Friday, Sept. 21, at 7 p. m. at Chapel No. 2 at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. Rev. James F. Madden, Catholic chaplain, U. S. Army, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar of white gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a white floor-length dress of alencon lace and tulle with long tapered sleeves. The round neckline was bordered with seed pearls. Tiers of ruffled alternating lace and tulle covered the back of the gown. Her shoulder-length french illusion veil fell from a pillbox headpiece of silk oryza with a flower blossom trim. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue," was carried out.

Matron of honor was Ruby Curran, sister-in-law of the bride, who was attired in a floor-length hoop skirt of taffeta, azalea in color with short sleeves, round neckline with matching mitts and headpiece.

The best man was Lt. Edward Taylor of Albany, N. Y., and 1st Lt. James Dewey of Dedham, Mass., served as usher. The groom and his attendants wore their military dress blue uniforms. Organist was Louis Kim.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the officers club. Fort Sam Houston. The large center table held a bouquet of white gladioli with silver candelabras on either side. On one end of the table was the triple-tiered wedding cake and at the other was the silver service for coffee. Hostess for the receiving line was Capt. Doris Ledbetter, Dallas, and Ms. Jean Ware of Newark, N. J. presided at the guest book. Others assisting were Capt. Virginia Nellis, Utiaca, N. Y., and Capt. Anne Deming, St. Albans, Vt. All wore their dress blue military uniforms.

The bride graduated from St. Francis School of Nursing, Wichita, Kan., in 1958. She is a 1st Lt. in Army Nurse Corps, and is presently attending military school at Ft. Sam Houston.

The groom is a graduate of Henderson State Teachers College in Arkansas and is presently serving with the infantry at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He is a 1st lt. in the U. S. Army.

Steal Magazine to Get Coupon

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Police are looking for a crook or crooks with 2,100 copies of Family Weekly, Sunday magazine section of the Hot Springs Sentinel-Record.

The magazines, each bearing two coupons worth 10 cents each, were stolen Monday night from a storage room at the newspaper.

The theft was discovered Tuesday afternoon. Coy Burroughs, circulation director of the Sentinel-Record and New Era, estimated the loss at $500. He said the coupons alone were worth $420.

The newspaper is offering a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the thieves.

Burroughs said the newspaper is trying to replace the magazine sections in order that subscribers will not miss their copies Sunday morning.

Has Trouble Developing TV Habits

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—I don't know about anybody else, but I'm having a tough time settling down into any happy habits of television viewing.

For instance, Thursday night—that's when it's most difficult. I dig in comfortably to watch Perry Mason bring a guilty prisoner to justice, all the way to the epilogue when they tie up the loose ends. Or shall I wait for "Dr. Kildare," which starts at Perry's mail-room point and just when he's ready to go into the court room?

I'm an old Mason fan, but so far, I find I enjoy watching hand some "Dr. Kildare" more than "The Nurses," a series of the same medical genre, which follows my favorite television lawyer. But if I do decide to skip "Dr. Kildare" in favor of "The Nurses," that also means I'll miss "Hazel."

Or, again, take Tuesday night. I'm a dyed-in-the-wool "Dick Powell Show" fan—but I'm also a Jack Benny and "Garry Moore Show" devotee. Why, oh why, have the NBC and CB programmers forced me to make a choice? Surely there were ways they could have spread these popular shows in less competitive positions.

ABC's new "Stoney Burke," the series about a rodeo rider, has come up at least with a novel character—the semi-villain who is a regular member of the cast. That's a character called "Ves," played by Warren Oates, and a sort of despicable nice guy.

In two episodes I've seen to date, Ves has been in the employ of a cruel and shady exploiter of professional riders—and this week the showing of the shady promoters of a prize fight who were trying to keep the rodeo out of town.

Anyway, Ves is different from the evil villains and the mental cases which are so much around. He's well, just sort of misguided and so sorry when he finds what mischief he's made.

Carol Burnett will be back visiting "The Garry Moore Show" to a new "regular" on this season's series will be Roy Castle, the British comedian-dancer-singer who has been signed for about 20 shows. Alan King will be on 12 or 14—and probably Mr. Lorn won't be showing up at all.

Suit Is Filed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A suit was filed Thursday in Pulaski Chancery Court asking that Johnson County game warden O. R. Willis not be paid because he is related to Johnson County justice of the peace John Willis. The complainant, Athel Hill, alleges that the employment of Willis violated the state constitutional provision prohibiting commissions from appointing relatives to state posts. Hill was identified in the suit only as a taxpayer.

The courthouse was quiet again. The one pale-lit window at the opposite end of the building from the jail had a lonely aspect. Youngblood hoped that it was the window of Judge Pendergrass, for into his mind had come a tantalizing, if perhaps foolish, idea and he meant to talk to the judge and find out what he thought about it.

He went upstairs and tapped lightly on the door from under which the lamp light came, and the answer was so long in coming that he wondered whether the light had been left burning by mistake. Then the judge opened the door.

"Come in, Youngblood," he said. "I'm glad to see you. I thought perhaps you had ridden with the others. Say, I heard a rumor. Do you have a new baby?"

"Yes sir, a boy, born this morning."

"Well, that sure is fine." The judge's face appeared deeply lined in the yellow light from the lamp which hung from the center of the ceiling. He seemed to contemplate the new baby, as if it were a quite different idea from what had been occupying his mind.

His face softened. His eyes twinkled momentarily behind the brass-rimmed spectacles. He repeated, "That sure is real fine. Will you be leaving Sheriff Bell now to work for Moss?"

Youngblood laughed. "No sir, if he'll have me, I'll stay on. I well, I just changed my mind. I guess."

"I'm glad you did. The sheriff can use a man like you. In fact, you would make a good sheriff yourself some day."

Deputy Youngblood worked just as he violently tearing apart the steps of the gallows, then the boxing planks of the platform where he had taken the axe, he thought, in exasperation over the slowness of the lazy worker. But he gave him a half minute alone actually he had a need to drive with his wife before they came himself to hard physical work, in his aunt and uncle.

His aunt brought the tiny burlap bag and placed it beside the mother. He felt such relief to find that everything was all right that it was the hottest part of the day, when the flap of sheet was spread planks and timbers. Sweat and the two women said it was a dripping from his clothes. Then, perfectly beautiful baby, such a after more than an hour of steady statement did not seem ridiculous labor he had left no two boards together.

Then he slung the axe to the ground beside Cobb's tool box, where he had picked it up.

He stopped long enough to draw water from the well, enough to fill a big wash tub in the room where he had been bunking with Andy and Slim. Then he took off his sweat-soaked clothing and bathed. He removed his head bandage, and washed the bullet wound.

Afterwards he put on fresh clothing and headed home.

He almost broke the gate from its hinges and hit the porch with a clatter of boots. He checked his eagerness at the door, opening it softly. His Aunt Annie was coming out of the kitchen with her finger to her lips.

"Has it happened?" he asked. "How's Lila? Did Doc come here?"

He knew from his aunt's laugh that he must have a silly look on his face.

"Of course it's happened," she said. "Blamed if I didn't talk my

Experience and Promiscuity Not Synonymous

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am writing about the happily married woman who suggested that you tell your readers not to pry into their spouse's past lest they hear things they would rather not know. Your answer to this intelligent letter was, "Take comfort in the thought that, as a rule, the more experienced the man, the better the husband."

In other words, dear lady, your advice is that single men should try to be intimate with as many women as they can before they marry anyone. They should have premarital relations so that they will be better husbands.

I was shocked, sickened and disgusted to see your remarks. They may have been fine had they been sent to that writer in a private letter, but your little message was read by young teenagers who respect your judgment. Perhaps you do not realize what a huge responsibility you have in writing this column. —Mrs. J. W.

Dear Mrs. J. W.: I do realize the responsibility of writing this column and a major part of that responsibility, as I see it, is never to disguise the truth, however unpalatable that may seem to some readers.

There is a curious contradiction in your letters. You say my remarks on the subject of a man's experience "shocked, sickened and disgusted" you. Yet in the very next sentence you describe them as "fine." So it would seem that in reality you are challenging not the validity of these views but rather their appearance in black and white. This, to me, is begging the question. A person should have the courage to be consistent in his or her opinions, wherever expressed. Much harm has been done in human relationships through the practice of saying one thing in public and another in private.

In any event, it is plain from your comments that you are confusing "experience" and "promiscuity." I would thoroughly concur with you in condemning promiscuity. This kind of casual, indiscriminate, and wholesale sexual activity brings nothing but woe to those who indulge in it and to those who, through subsequent association with such people, innocently reap its vicious harvest.

Dear Helen: I have had it. I am the oldest child in the family. For the past two years my grandmother has been living with us. She seems to be terribly bitter about everything and everybody.

When my grandfather died she thought she lost the world and she has never cared for the people her children married, including my mother. She picks on my mother a lot, blames her for everything, constantly yells and screams. I understand that she must be very ill, but we sometimes grow so afraid about the whole mess that we go to our bedrooms and cry, both for my mother and my grandmother. —Heartsick

Dear Heartsick: While I sympathize with your unhappy frame of mind, you would be definitely stepping out of your league if you tried to take an active part in any quarrel between adults. It's up to your mother and grandmother to smooth things out between them. The way for you to help is to maintain an attitude of respect and affection for both. If you contribute a cheerful note to the stormy atmosphere in your home, even a crotchety grandparent can be coaxed into better spirits.

Dear Helen: Being a gentleman doesn't pay off. I was good to my former wife. Result? Divorce. Though not handsome, I'm a neat dresser and can afford to give the girls a good time, yet all of those I date all but bang the front door in my face at the end of the evening. Ye gods, why, when I treat every last one of them with the respect I would show my own sister? To hand these women a line goes against my grain, but maybe that's what they fall for nowadays. Is it? —Concerned

Dear Concerned: At the risk of sounding like a harp with a single string, I repeat the advice I give so often to others: Be yourself! But that doesn't mean be a doorman. Cultivate self-respect—find your true self.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "On Being Popular."

The Queen drive will be conducted differently this year. Instead of asking the local businesses to make out-right donations, they will be asked to buy tickets to the game. Tickets are $1.00 each and we are asking that you buy one for each of your employees.

This will be the only solicitations by the school this term, so please help in this drive. We also invite you to come out and see the game.

The classes are in competition and the Homecoming Queens will be selected on the basis of the largest number of tickets sold. This money is used to finance our athletic program. Will V. Rutherford, Principal.

Mrs. General Phillips Hostess To American Legion
American Legion Post 427 held its regular meeting in the home of Mrs. General Phillips, Gold Star Mother, and member of the Auxiliary.

Commander C. G. Carmichael called the meeting to order. Reports were made, and Service Officer Will V. Rutherford gave a brief report on recent legislation affecting veteran benefits including loans, medical care and compensation.

After the business session, the commander presented visitors and guests. Aside from member of the auxiliary who were present in large numbers, other guests were Mrs. Zedie Jones, Miss Ruth Kennedy, Spanish teacher at Yerger High School, Mrs. Beatrice Johnson, Mrs. Birtha Pearson, Mrs. Leona Nelson, and Mrs. Gladys Williams.

Mrs. Phillips then entertained them with a dinner. The home was decorated with late fall red roses. The table was covered with a beautiful red and white cloth with matching napkins. Centering the table was a white cake with the name Nelson-Hill Post No. 427 in red, white and blue, which made a pretty picture, and on the end the silver was placed by a big silver tray which held deep red crab apples and tid bits of watermelon and tinted grapes. The dinner was served to about 30 members and guests.

Menu: Baked chicken-dressing, potatoes and peas, old fashion chicken dumplings, fruit salad, hot rolls, sweet potato pie, ice cream and cold drinks.

A tiny silk flag of red, white and blue was pinned on each one as a souvenir by Mrs. G. Twillie and Miss Ruth Kennedy.

Houk Confident Yankees Will Win Series

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Neither rain, nor hail nor wind, all of which were predicted for today's scheduled sixth World Series game between New York and San Francisco, could prevent Manager Ralph Houk from forecasting a world championship for his Yankees in six games.

Undaunted by Manager Alvin Dark's choice of Billy Pierce as the Giant pitcher and cognizant of the veteran left-hander's 12.0 record at Candlestick Park, Houk confidently expected the Yankees to wrap it up today—weather permitting—behind the left-handed slants of Whitey Ford. The Yankees lead the series, three games to two.

"I expect Ford to beat Pierce," Houk said Thursday picking Whitey over Bill Stafford, although it was the young right-hander's turn in the pitching rotation.

"I'm going with my best and let the chips fall where they may," added Houk. "I'm not underestimating Pierce. It will be a tough battle but Whitey should win. He's fit and ready. I know Pierce hasn't lost here yet. But neither has Whitey. Remember, he beat the Giants in his only appearance here."

The odds-makers supported Houk's victory claim. They have established the Yankees a 13-10 favorite to win today and a 7-2 favorite to win the series.

The odds were even greater against the game being played today. According to the Weather Bureau, there was a 90 per cent chance of rain. Warnings of 30 to 45 miles an hour wind have been posted.

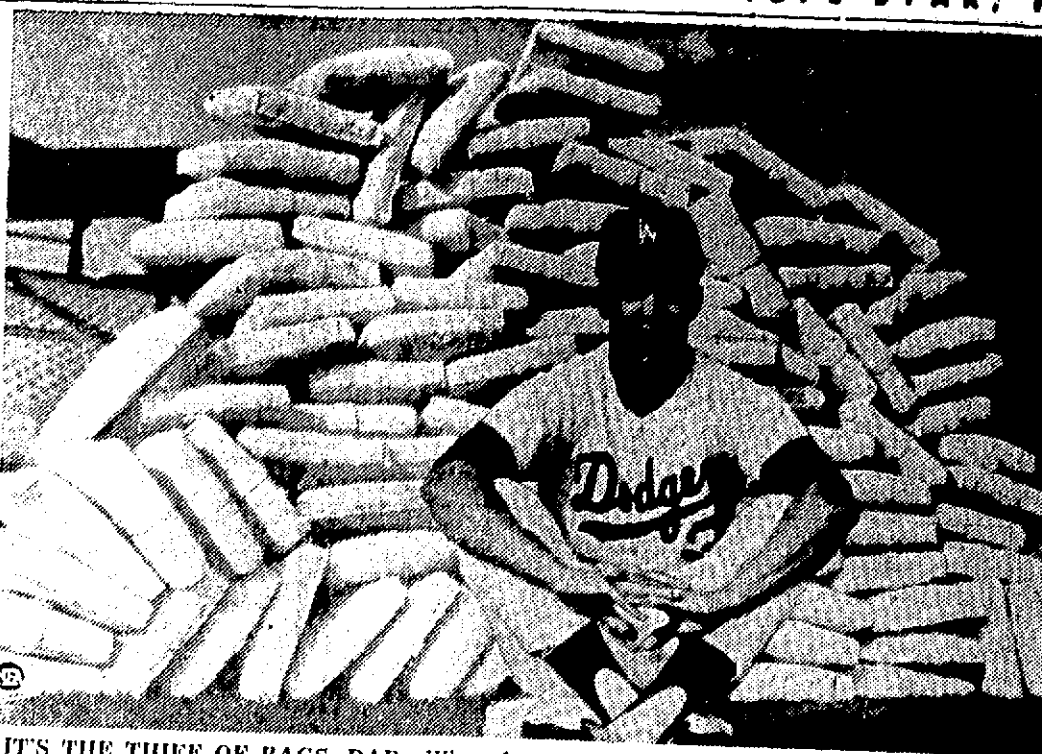

It was felt in some quarters that a postponement would prove beneficial to the Giants. A day's delay would give Ford full day's rest and it has been Houk's contention that Ford is at his sharpest with only three days rest.

By the same token, a rainout would enable the Giants to come back with Jack Sanford, their right-handed ace, with sufficient rest for the seventh game, if one is needed.

Houk planned to start the same line-up he has used in every game but the second when injuries forced the benching of first baseman Bill Skowron and catcher Elston Howard. Skowron underwent treatment for a shoulder and hand injury Thursday but Houk said he would be in the lineup.

IT'S THE THIEF OF BAGS, DAD—When he ran his total of stolen bases to 100, Maury Wills, the Los Angeles Dodgers' incredible thief, was photographed before the number of bags that swelled the major league record to a total long considered beyond approach.

Some Top Games Slated on Weekend

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP)—No longer is the University of Detroit so anxious to climb into football's big time. All the Titans want to do is win a game, beat anybody.

Kentucky, a rival scheduled when Detroit was a bit more ambitious—and successful—invades Titan Stadium tonight. Licked by Army, Navy, Michigan State, Tulane as well as Kentucky in recent seasons when they had respectable records, the Titans now realize they perhaps overextended themselves.

So far this season, the Titans have been beaten by Boston College, Xavier (Ohio) and New Mexico State. Their losing streak continued from last year, is at five.

Kentucky, like Detroit, goes into the game without a victory. But the game appears to be a mismatch anyway. The Wildcats have tied Florida State and lost close games to two powers in its Southeastern Conference, Auburn and fifth-ranked Mississippi.

The Kentucky-Detroit clash is one of three major games on the Friday night college football schedule. In the others, Mississippi State is at Tulane and UCLA bidding for a place in the top ten rankings, entertains Colorado State University.

The Uclans made an impressive season's debut last week when they spilled Ohio State, then the nation's top ranked team, 9-7 after three times stopping the Buckeye attack on the one. The upset, enough to topple Ohio State from first to tenth, still wasn't enough to get UCLA into The AP's top ten.

Eight of the top ten will be in action on Saturday, with only fourth-ranked Southern California and Mississippi idle.

Alabama, the defending national champion and No. 1 again after the Buckeye bounce, should win the Tech eight he rolled out looking to pass. But the Picadors gave him too much room and he blazed his way to the end zone and the tying touchdown.

Porks Called for Extra Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The University of Arkansas Razorbacks will go through an hour-long extra practice session today because Coach Frank Broyles says the Baylor offense has him scared.

Broyles commented after the Thursday workout, "We still don't know what to do," and said the Hogs hadn't made any progress this week.

The session today will be an extension of the past week's work—a study of the Bears' offense, Broyles said.

The Don Trull-Romie Goodwin passing combination, the "high" condition of the Bears and the pro-type offense of Baylor are Broyles bugaboos.

The game will be the 1962 Southwest Conference debut for Baylor. The Porks go into the game without the services of ace linebacker Billy Joe Moody, sidelined with an ankle injury.

Contest Hearing

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Chancellor Paul Williams has scheduled a hearing Oct. 18 on an election contest suit filed by Stanford Lee, who alleges about 200 illegal votes were cast in the Aug. 14 Democratic runoff primary in Russellville. Lee lost to Floyd Johnson by two votes in the tax assessor's race.

as it pleases against Houston at home. Texas, No. 2, plays its annual Southwest war with Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners at Dallas, and third-ranked Penn State seeks its fourth straight victory against once-beaten Army at West Point.

Louisiana State, ranked sixth, has a night game with unbeaten Miami, and seventh-ranked Washington plays Oregon State at Portland. Baylor goes against eighth-ranked Arkansas, ninth-pegged Purdue faces Miami of Ohio, and Ohio State takes out its UCLA disappointment against hapless Illinois, which hasn't won a game since 1960.

Arkansas and Baylor Top Game in Loop

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Arkansas goes after the lead in Southwest Conference football in a battle with Baylor at Fayetteville Saturday and the high-riding Razorbacks are expected to make it.

It would be Arkansas' second straight conference triumph and would mean the Razorbacks were the only two-game winners.

Texas and Texas A&M, which have won their only conference engagements, will be following the intersectional trail, Texas taking on deep rival Oklahoma at Dallas while the Aggies are in Gainesville, Fla., to meet Florida.

Texas Christian, loser of one conference game, and Texas Tech, loser of two, clash at Fort Worth. Tech is virtually eliminated from the race already. Texas Christian would join the Red Raiders in obscurity if Tech should win.

Intersectionally, the conference now is behind for the season, having one five, lost seven and tied one. It will require victory in all three games this week for the league to go back ahead. Texas and Rice are expected to win but the Aggies are underdogs.

While all this activity is going on, Southern Methodist will be an interested onlooker only, probably watching Texas on television. The Mustangs, who have lost three out of three, rest this week, gathering their energy for the opening of the conference race Oct. 20 against Rice at Dallas.

Major interests rest on Dallas where Texas tries for its fifth straight victory over Oklahoma. Texas is rated No. 2 in the nation and looking for the No. 1 spot. A solid victory over Oklahoma might give it to the Longhorns.

Arkansas with its terrific offense featuring the versatile Billy Moore is a heavy favorite to take down Baylor's winless Bears. Baylor, however, has had two weeks to prime itself for arch rival Arkansas and the Bears should play their best football of the year.

Got four out of five last week to make the season record 12-6-1. Here's how they look Saturday: Texas-Oklahoma—A better game than last year but still a Texas victory.

Baylor-Arkansas—Gambling on upsets ruins the average; Arkansas by two touchdowns.

Texas A&M-Florida-Florida is favored but doesn't seem to have any better team than A&M, which was boosted greatly by its victory over Texas Tech; the Aggies in a squeaker.

Texas Tech-Texas Christian—Tech will lose its third conference game.

Rice-Oregon—Rice has done just the opposite of predictions thus far but here's a vote for the Owls to tumble Oregon.

U.S. Regains Lead in Jap Golf Match

KAWANA, Japan (AP)—The United States regained the lead from Canada after the third round of the World Amateur Golf Team Championship today as good weather and good scoring returned to the picturesque Fuji course.

The Americans, defending the title they won in a runaway two years ago, put together a three-man team score of 211 for the day and a three-round total of 649 to lead the surprising Canadians by two strokes.

Great Britain, paced by Mike Bonallack, took over third place from New Zealand by a 658-660 margin. Scoring is strictly on a team basis with the three low

Bobcats Need Win to Stay in Contention

By VINCE FOSTER

At Hammond Stadium 8 o'clock Friday night the Hope Bobcats will have their Homecoming with a 4AA district struggle with the Fairview Cardinals. The Bobcats will be given a good test to see if they can come back after last week's disappointing 7-0 loss to Crossett.

Fairview will have to win this one to stay in the running for 4AA honors and will be coming to Hope full of fire and plenty of power. Most of this power will be coming from 170-pound halfback Stanley Watson who leads the district in scoring with thirty-three points, all coming in last week 44-13 stamping of Arkadelphia. The Cardinals won the Region 4AA Jamboree at Camden by upsetting the hosts 7-6. Then Camden came back the following week with a 7-0 nod over the Cards. At fired up Fairview eleven traveled to Smackover the next week and whipped them 9-6. The next Friday highly rated Helena outclassed and outscored Fairview 27-6. Haynesville, La., slapped the Cardinals 13-0 in the other game, giving the Cards a 2-3 record. The Cards stand 1-1 in conference play.

Fairview is well-quarterbacked by Ray Jones whose prize receiver is 175-pound husky end Keith Dunlap. Tommy Walker and Joe Bailey, 195-pound tackles, assist on the line, while halfbacks Tommy Burton and Guy Teel fill out the remainder of the backfield.

The Bobcats, who dropped to 0-1 in the state after their loss, are faced with a do-or-die game. If they lose this one, they may fall into that familiar losing pit where defeats seem to become a habit. Surely overconfidence will not hinder them in this game. Physically the team is ready, but no one has been able to tell whether or not the Cats are ready mentally. Ready or not, the Bobcats will be facing a highly capable and highly unpredictable Fairview team. Hope fans are still awaiting that fifth victory, so come out tonight and show you are behind them by, backing the Bobcats as they say on the gridiron, 110%.

The Homecoming activities will begin at 7:30 with the kickoff at eight.

Little Loop Blues Edge Reds 20-13

Thursday at K-park the Blues edged the Reds 20-13 in Little League football play.

Early in the first quarter Red Koen took a punt 57 yards to score but the PAT failed. The Blues got moving on Johnny Young's 26 yard sprint with Freddie McManus bulging four yards for the score. Young ran the point putting the Blues ahead 7-6 at the end of the quarter.

In the second period Koen's punt bounced off a lineman the Blues recovered on the Red 20. A few plays later Young went in for the score. Dan Stuart's point try failed. The Reds fought back with Koen blocking a punt, scooped it up and ran 17 yards to score. Stroud circled end for the point, tying the game 13 all at the half.

In the fading seconds of the third period the Blues put a drive together, led by Turner and Stuart and the blocked of White, Warren and Lehman. Young sneaked from the end to score and McManus made the point.

With only a few seconds left in the game, Stroud tossed a pass to Koen who was downed on the foot line on a great stop by Terry Turner. However it was last down and the Blues ran out the clock.

Kittens Lick Nashville in Scoring Bee

By VINCE FOSTER

The Hope Bobkittens romped and stomped Nashville for their third win in an offensive battle that ended 27-19 for Hope. Kittens Bobby Samuels and Bobo Ball each ran for two TD's in this game Thursday at Hammond Stadium.

The first time Nashville got the ball in the second quarter they scored on a five yard run by Mobbs. The attempted run for the PAT failed, but the visitors were temporarily ahead 6-0.

The Bobkittens came back on runs of 21, 7, and 5 by HB Samuels. Ball carried it seven yards to the one, where Samuels plunged over. Ball added the point after on a run to put Hope out front to stay 7-6. Right before the half Barber covered a Nashville fumble on the Hope 48, and on the next play Samuels scampered 52 yards for the second Hope score. Again Ball added the PAT and Hope lead at the half 14-6.

Early in third period a 35-yard scamper by Ball gave the locals their third score. The extra point failed. Nashville came back with a 30 yard run by Carozza and with that extra point, the Nashville eleven narrowed the margin to 20-13. Ball soon scooted for 38 yards and another score, and Strong's PAT run gave Hope a 27-13 lead. Nashville's final tally came on a ten yard pass. The PAT failed.

Bobby Samuels lead Hope in rushing with 147 yards, followed by Ball with 99. Ingram carried for 35, Pardue 13, and Strong 7 for a total of 301 yards for the Kittens. The visitors, led by Carozza with 148 yards, took 190 yards rushing and 16 yards passing.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

Many Arkansas legislators will be in the crowd flocking to Fayetteville this weekend, but they'll have something to do besides attend the Baylor-Arkansas football game.

It's the annual legislative week-end, in which the Legislative Council and the Joint Auditing Committee meet on the University of Arkansas campus.

Legislative festivities open Friday night with a dinner and reception at the Fayetteville Country Club. Campus tours, the meetings, and a luncheon are set for the game Saturday.
